

The Importance of English Language in India

English Language is one of the most demanding and charming languages of the world. This is the only language which is spoken by the maximum number of people in the world. It is also known as a global language. Today's world and today's scenario, in terms of every aspects and circumstances, English language has become one of the basic needs of the people not only for the purpose of education but also for the purpose of survival. We all know that English is spoken in India as a second language. But it is also a fact that India holds no.1 position in understanding and learning English language as compare to other non-speaking English countries. In today's world we are totally dependent on English language even for our tiniest needs. In India, English language has got its great place in every field of growth. Today's world is a world of technology and electronic media in which we use English language as a weapon of expression and impression. Through it, we also spread our ideas, thoughts, knowledge and information from one corner to the other corner of the world. English language brings our healthy and wealthy personality among the people in the society. It is a question of reputation and dignity. Speaking English language has become quite fashion in these days. For example, if we go to attend some parties and functions, at there, we find that everyone is talking and sharing his or her ideas and feelings to each other in English language and suppose if somebody does not speak or hesitate to speak there then what happens she or he started feeling embracing of herself and himself.

So, eventually we can say that English language builds our confidence and brings attraction, appreciation and impression from the people in the society.

By, Arshad Khan

Dept. of English

J N College Madhubani