

"Ode To Autumn"

classmate

Date 30/09/20

Page 01

- John Keats

Dr. Mithlesh Kumar Manjhi
Dept. of English
J. N. College, Madhubani

Class - Intermediate
Sub - English (100)
Topic - "Ode to Autumn"
Lecture - 01.

← Summary → of the Poem.

The poem "Ode to Autumn" has been written by John Keats. Keats is one of the greatest of English Romantic poets. He is a great lover of Nature. In this poem, the poet describes the beauty and pleasure of the autumn season. Autumn is a very pleasant season. It is with mists and maturing sun. The trees and plants are with fruits and flowers. Greenery can be seen every where. The grain begins to ripen. Leaves and buds begin to grow on trees. In this season, we can feel neither too hot nor too cold. Wind keeps on blowing. In this season, the sun and summer help in ripeness of fruits. Birds sing sweet songs and they fill the human's heart with pleasure. People are very happy to see the crops, fruits, flowers and beautiful scene of nature.

“Ode to Autumn”

classmate

Date 30/09/20

Page 02

In this season the tired travellers sit on the greenery floor. The poet described the vines, apple trees and hares in this season. He says that bees hover over flowers and talk about their song. He describes swallows, robins and crickets in this poem. He says that really autumn presents memorable “picture of nature”

Thus, in this poem, the poet describes the qualities of autumn season.