

Transformation

A

Did I not love you?

He is not fool.

Never tell a lie.

He is as dull as an ass.

B

I did love you.

He is wise.

Always speak the truth.

An ass is not duller than he is.

Transformation means to transform a sentence is to re-write it to change its form without any change of meaning.

Different forms of Sentences

- Statement or Assertive ( affirmative or negative ),
- Questions or Interrogative
- Desires or Imperative and Optative
- Exclamations
- Voice : Active and Passive
- Simple, complex, double and multiple ( compound ) sentences
- Direct and Indirect ( Narration )

1. Transforming interrogative into assertive

Interrogative

Am I fool?

Did I not write to you?

Can a man live for ever?

Shall I ever forget those happy days?

Who would not love his country?

Can a man be immortal?

Who does not know Shakespeare?

Assertive

I am not a fool.

I wrote to you.

A man cannot live forever.

I shall never forget those happy days.

Everyone would love his country.

A man cannot be immortal.

Everyone knows Shakespeare.

By, Arshad Khan

Dept. of English

J N College Madhubani